KEY SKILLS

- Curriculum & workshop design
- Technical writing & docs architecture
- AI-assisted content pipelines
- Video scripting & production
- Public speaking
- Team leadership & mentorship
- JavaScript, TypeScript, Node, Python

EDUCATION

BACHELOR'S DEGREE

Computer Science, cum laude
Harvard Extension School
2010 – 2014

TEACHING

- A decade of talks, from team rooms to international stages
- Girl Scout HTML intro workshops to full-day industry workshops
- Women Who Code: newcomers and returners
- Video tutorials and series, filmed solo

PROFILE

I believe in people. I lead with care, humor, and enough EQ to bring people along, not just push them forward. I'm at my best turning technical complexity into something people actually want to learn.

WORK HISTORY

TECHNICAL WRITER & TOOLING CONSULTANT

Intelliswift (LTTS), supporting Google
2024 – 2026

- Lead a team of contract writers documenting an internal web framework for Google engineers.
- Restructured the doc set's architecture so engineers find the answer instead of reading everything.
- Use AI as production infrastructure: models draft the tedious passes and first-cut code samples, and I sculpt them into examples that teach.

SR. DX ENGINEER → ENGINEERING MANAGER

Netlify
2019 – 2024

- Built and led the templates team, designed around leveling up junior engineers.
- Created the pipeline turning templates and supporting content into a repeatable production line.
- Coached reports until they led the building, the process, and the teaching without me in the room.

SOFTWARE ENGINEER II → DEVELOPER ADVOCATE

Progress (acquired Modulus Web)
2014 – 2019

- Taught a global developer audience through talks, tutorials, and multi-part video series, scripted, filmed, and published end to end.
- Turned framework internals into mental models a newcomer could hold, then reused them across every format.
- Shipped production web applications before moving to advocacy.
